Editor's Message

your friend,
"Duck"

The three communities of Macclesfield, Crisp, and Pinetops, North Carolina, unite in supporting one high school for their youth. This leads to broader viewpoints and a wider field of service for all the people. The communities and the school are mutually dependent. Realizing this truth, the yearbook staff decided to build it into the theme of the '55 MACCRIPINE. In picturing the life of this school year at South Edgecombe, they have endeavored to show some of the training that will fit the students for the challenges that lie ahead. From the elementary schools, South Edgecombe High School takes the students and continues their education before sending them back to enter into political, economic, and social fields of life. Through this procedure, there is developed one, big cooperating community.

C. Roy Griffin, Jr.

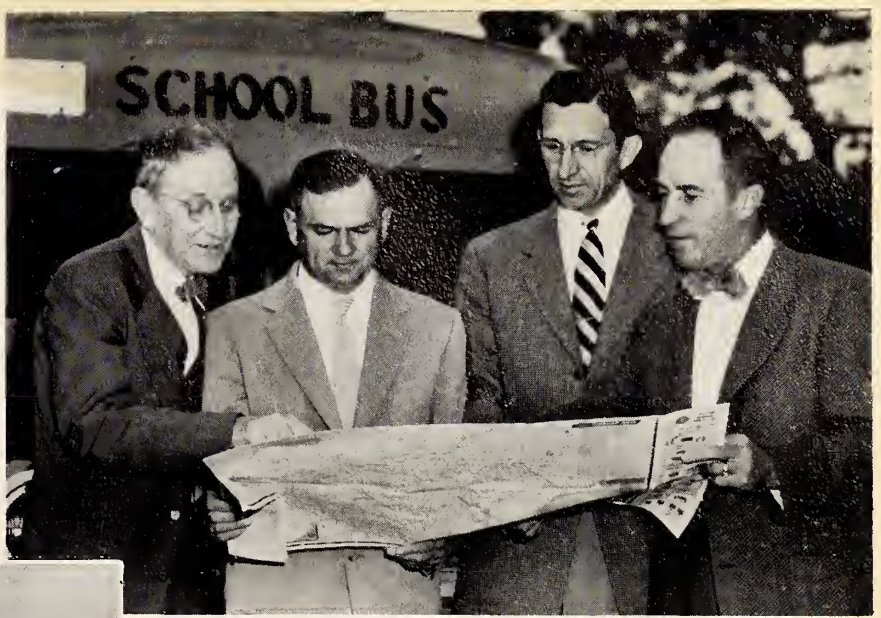

DEDICATION

Mr. James Turner Abrams, our vocational agriculture teacher, realized the dream of his youth by returning to his alma mater to become a guide and friend of the entire student body. In addition, he has rendered invaluable civic and religious leadership in the community. Because of his qualities of practicality, earnestness, determination, drive, and ability to lead pupils from where he finds them to a goal which will enrich their lives, we dedicate this Maccripine to Mr. Abrams.

SOUTH EDGECOMBE HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. N. F. Lovelace, Mr. K. B. Edwards, Mr. W. L. Dunn, Jr.; Mr. J. E. Eagles.

The school board is an important part of our administration.

Mr. E. D. Johnson, Superintendent of Edgecombe County Schools, and Mr. J. H. Little, Chairman of the School Board, hold a conference.

P. T. A. OFFICERS

SEATED: Mrs. K. B. Edwards, President.
STANDING: Mrs. T. D. Williams, Vice-President; Mr. J. T. Abrams, Treasurer; Mrs. L. L. Eason, Secretary.

These P. T. A. officers are looking at the framed charter on which they recently added a new gold seal.

The P. T. A. is an active organization in our school. It is instrumental in helping to raise money for some of the many things needed to help enrich our school program.

Resumé

Our Freshmen, Sophomores, and Junior years brought much fun as well as hard work. We went to the planetarium in Chapel Hill twice. How will we ever forget our trip to the lake? Before we were half way there, the "Blue Goose" stopped operating. But luck was with us that day and finally we reached the lake—with hot dogs, ice cream, and boat riding as our reward. Donald Edwards proved to be a super-salesman during our magazine drive. I know each of us will recall his special memories of the Junior-Senior Banquet. Proud escorts, lovely girls, soft music, and good food completed a night of enjoyment.

If overcoming obstacles makes for strength, the seniors of '55 should truly be strong. Many things happened to interrupt the regular schedule. On October 15, Hurricane "Hazel" passed through, leaving much destruction in the state. Many of our students lost parts of their houses. The roof of our building was picked up and dropped in the highway. About the time we had settled down to work again, the boiler burst and we had to be out of school for two weeks. However, some of our work had to go on. Mrs. Phillips held practices for our play in the agriculture shop. Mrs. Frazier and Mr. Thorne continued with the ball practices. The annual staff moved typewriters into the sponsor's home and worked there. Finally, we were forced to go back to school and hold classes in the gymnasium. That was something! Snow caused still further loss of time. All of this necessitated some Saturday teaching. In spite of the many problems, we could always find a way to have fun, too. In the second semester there were parties, trips, and the wonderful Junior-Senior Banquet to speed the time along to the great day of graduation. It is to be hoped that all of our school experiences served to fit us for a rich life of service.

Last Will And Testament

Forewell, dear South Edgecombe! As we journey forth from the protection and guidance of your friendly walls into a strange world, we leave behind, this document to be read by all upon our sad departure.

We leave to Mr. Clary our thanks and deep appreciation for being the friendly principal we all confide in.

To the members of our fine faculty we leave our love and gratitude for the many considerations they have shown us. We realize that without the aid of any one of them we would not be where we are today.

To the incoming seniors we leave our earnest hope that they will succeed in all their plans and dreams and reach their long awaited goal.

The individual bequests read as follows:

Larry Bridgers, Larry Ellis, and Fred Tolson leave their ability to argue to the debaters of '56.

Peggy Gold Cobb and Joyce Sumlin leave their places in the Beto Club to Sylvio Vornell and Peggy Horrell.

C. Roy Griffin leaves his love for photography to the incoming editor-in-chief.

Potsy Horrell and Janice Taylor leave their love for the "Packhouse Jamboree" and the dance to Jean Harrell and "Sister" Jefferson.

Robert Earl Wardsworth and Jeff Pollard leave their love for the shop to Frank Pollard and Phil Carlton.

Dora Bornes and Peggy Coker leave their cheering ability to Jeonette Webb and Carolyn Owens.

Mory Cummings and Lou Webb leave their friendly dispositions to the student body.

Corinna Shelton and Lois Morris leave their love for economics and other social studies to Margie Causey and Sylvio Webb.

Lou Goyle Norville and Carol Varnell leave their love for basketball to Jonice Turner.

Russell Peoden and Millard Wooten leave their quietness to C. G. Forbes and Herbert Denton.

Bobby Denny and Ernest Todd Webb leave their height to Mory Peaden and Freddie Horrell.

Margie Corbett and Shirley Turner leave their roles in the senior play to Shelby Webb and Jackie Overman.

Mary Ann Harrell and Bill Lilley leave their witty sayings to Louise Taylor and Eloine Baker.

Morion Jefferson, Janice Phillips, and Louis Eason leave their winning smiles to all who wish for a charming personality.

Cloudette Phillips leaves her love for good library books to Lela Cooke and Edwina Jefferson.

Charles Chopmon and W. J. Varnell leave their love for the two o'clock bell to all the freshmen the bell has confused so many times.

Edgar Webb leaves his ability to oct to Carolyn Dunn.

Donald Edwards leaves his sales experience and ability to the incoming juniors.

Pete Edmondson, Bobby Roy Edmondson, and Roy Trevathan leave their ability to flirt to Billy Edwards and George Eason.

Dora Reason and Delois Horrell leave their willingness to co-operate at all times to Barbara Rose Webb and Rebecca Langley.

Shelby Dean Webb leaves her place as the head majorette to June Stallings.

Doris Williams leaves her neat handwriting to anyone who has to write the pet word in detention hall.

Milton Tolson and Nicky Webb leave their expert ability to manage their school buses to Billy Trevathan and Linwood Jones.

Peggy Goy and Joyce Jones leave their participation in school activities to Diane Webb and Oneida Williams.

Letho Walters and Edith Cooke leave their unselfishness to the future Maccripine staffs.

This Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class of '55 was executed on the thirty-first day of May, nineteen hundred and fifty-five.

It doesn't seem as if we have been at South Edgecombe for three years. But the records show our junior year is nearly over. It has been an eventful year and one full of fun—not to mention the hard work! Our treasured class rings will always remind us of this happy year. We also have the memory of our Junior-Senior Banquet. That night as we sat, with tired feet, we realized that selling magazine subscriptions, paying our weekly class dues, and decorating for the banquet had been worth while. Our homeroom teachers this year were Mrs. Bill Daly and Mrs. Lean Griffin. They and the other teachers have helped to make this year one of the best of our lives. And next year—?

Sophomores

As Freshmen of '53 we were very excited because we were going to South Edgcambe and would be able to change rooms for each class. The directions of Mrs. Porker and Mrs. Griffin kept us from getting lost the first day. The girls got a big kick out of being initiated at school. (I guess we looked right cute.) Many freshmen took part in the Halloween Carnival, the Bond, and the Glee Club concert. We were proud of the fine work Peggy Horrell did as secretary of Student Council. Pally Pitt and Betty Bornes, cheerleaders, helped to create school spirit.

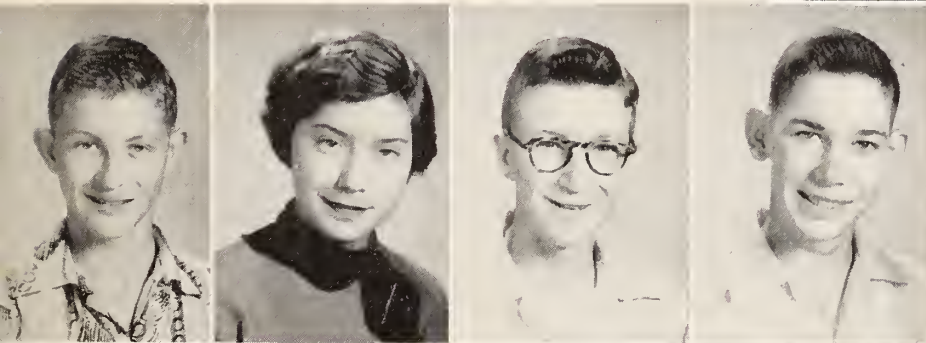

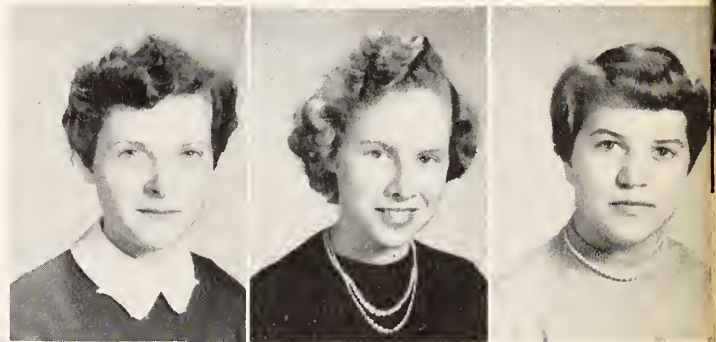

This fall when we returned, with Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. Lupton as homeroom teachers, we felt very different from last year. We had a lot of unexpected holidays during our sophomore year. Hurricane "Hazel" came through and took South Edgcambe's roof and part of our school days. When the boiler burst, we took part of our Christmas holidays before Thanksgiving. This year we had five girls to be cheerleaders. Mary John Little served as treasurer of the Student Council. One highlight of our sophomore year came when we served at the Junior-Senior Bonquet. As we enjoyed that night, our minds were also filled with dreams of our own banquet to come next year.

Freshmen

I don't think we freshmen will ever forget the first day of high school. How a day can be so frightening and at the same time so marvelous we don't know. When we got off the bus, it seemed as if everyone knew everyone else but us. When we went into the auditorium, it seemed that just about everyone in Edgemoor County was there and staring at us as if we were refugees from some war camp. Of course they weren't, but it seemed that way. The speeches that were made in the auditorium welcoming us surely helped overcome that funny feeling we had acquired. As the day went by we began to feel as though we had been coming to high school all our lives. On the way home we decided that high school wasn't so bad after all; and, when we got home, we told everyone how nice it was. We didn't say anything about being scared at first; but, just between you and me, we were. Through the activities of the year we developed a real sense of belonging. It has been fun.

Classes

In physical education classes, the aim is to build stronger bodies . . . For enriching the cultural side of life, French is important . . . The English classes try to give students mastery of their own language, both oral and written . . . In algebra, students develop reasoning power as they solve the algebraic problems.

ALGEBRA I . . . C. G. Farbes, Emma Lau Williams, Rebecca Langley, Mrs. Griffin

ALGEBRA II . . . Larry Bridgers, Bill Litley, Dora Reason, Mr. Clary, Jayce Sumlin, Louis Eason

CHEMISTRY . . . Gladys Williams, Betty Jean Whitley, Davis Webb, Charles Pridgen, Linwaad Janes

TYPEWRITING . . . Edgar Webb, Pete Edmandsan, Florence Webb

At Work

In chemistry class, the important method of scientific experiment is taught . . . Where would our business world be without the ability to type —gained in the commercial classes? . . . The rural community is immeasurably benefited by the knowledge gained in agriculture . . . The home economics classes are equally valuable; sewing and cooking ability will lower budgets and improve nutrition.

Religious inspiration is obtained in many ways. Daily devotionals are held in each homeroom. The student council schedules a program of weekly devotionals led by the faculty members, representatives from school organizations, and visiting ministers. This picture shows F. H. A. members as they led a program in chapel.

In history class, the past is stressed to show how we may avoid pitfalls of the future. It also emphasizes the value of information concerning the whole world.

BETA CLUB

The Beta Club exists as much for the school as it does for the members. Some of the activities of our club are the following: serving as substitute teachers; conducting assembly programs; coaching students; maintaining a lost-and-found department; selling cookies to raise funds for a sick room; and studying current problems in our programs.

HOMECOMING

Queen: Florence Webb

King: Phil Carlton

THE COURT

C. R. Griffin, Jr, June Stallings, Linwood Jones, Rochelle Whaley, Jerry Owens, Claudette Phillips, Billy Trevathan, Shirley Phillips, Florence Webb, queen; Phil Carlton, king, Norris Tolson; Phyllis Abrams; Lynn Speight; Bobby Denny; Lou Gayle Norville, Richard Pollard.

The 1954-55 homecoming court was one of the most beautiful courts ever to be held at South Edgecombe. The scene consisted of many red roses on a white fence before which the contestants stood according to their rank. For two weeks prior to this night, the contest had been going on in school. Then, the interest in voting became very high and lasted until the bell brought a conclusion.

Hectic time for the vote counters as the end of the contest drew near.

Homecoming

On Friday night, December 3, South Edgcombe held its first homecoming. All the alumni and friends of the school were invited.

The first feature of the evening was a basketball doubleheader with Snow Hill High School. The South Edgcombe girls had their first victory of the season with a score of 36-32. The Snow Hill boys won the second game with a score of 42-38; this was the first defeat of the season for the South Edgcombe boys.

The band and majorettes performed in a gymnasium that was filled to capacity. A wonderful spirit of enthusiasm prevailed throughout the crowd.

The registration books showed that homecoming alumni represented every class of the 27 years in the history of the school. Because the class of 1952 had the largest number present, the photographer made a picture of that group.

Florence Webb and Phil Carlton, both juniors, were crowned king and queen of homecoming. After the coronation, the evening's program ended with a sack dance.

CLASS OF '52

First Row: Lane Harrell, Emma Jean Craft, Ann Webb, Carol Ann Pitt, Susan Strickland, Adelle Hallaman, Ruby Lee Harrell.

Second Row: Sue Britt, Earl Coker, Dudley Whitley, Samuel Williams, Dickie Stallings, Amos Harrell.

The cheerleaders have shown excellent ability in leading our student body and fans this year. With their enthusiastic yells, the cheerleaders have given life to the school spirit.

BASEBALL TEAM OF '54

Coch J. D. Thorne's Dragons won the Coastal Conference Championship baseball title last spring. Their won-and-lost record in the Conference was 5-2. The teams which participated were: Ayden, Formville, Robersonville, Vanceboro, Snow Hill, and South Edgecombe. The team was led in hitting by Jon Felton, Bobby Edmandson, and Joe Croft—in defensive play by Dean Webb, Charles Pridgen, Forbie Jefferson, Bobby Dunn, and Linwood Jones. The pitching was handled by Fred Tolson, Donald Croft, and Lorry Ellis. The subs on the team were Bobby Scott, Norman Parker, Buster Edwards, Phil Edwards, Ralph Owens, and Hugh Clark.

THE UNEXPECTED

The center picture shows where Hurricane "Hazel" deposited our roof. In the other two pictures we see classes being conducted in the gymnasium because our bailer had burst. Classes in the gym left aching backs and lost books. In fact, we probably had a good three-ring circus.

We were truly glad to get back to our regular classrooms.

*Best of luck always!
